

VC WINTER/SPRING ANALYST

Description

We're looking for a high-energy pragmatic self-starter with a hands-on entrepreneurial mindset who has a deep passion for innovation in energy and mobility sectors. It is a unique opportunity to work with an international team based in Vilnius office as an intern on a full-time basis for 3 months.

Autumn Analyst will help to analyze early-stage investments in the energy and mobility space and work closely with Contrarian Ventures team to develop investor mindset.

During the internship, our team will focus on teaching analysts about the venture capital business. You will receive training on how to best speak to entrepreneurs, assess different business models that are attractive to Contrarian Ventures investment strategy, how deals are structured, and the lifecycle of a deal. The analyst will work closely with the team, however, will report directly to the firm partners and will assist in all phases of the investment process.

Requirements

We are looking for the person, more than the resume. With that in mind, we look for an individual with:

- * Passion: is genuinely passionate about technology, entrepreneurship, and community building
- * Intellectual ability: learns quickly and can master complex frameworks and apply them effectively through practice
- * High standards: not satisfied with "good." Motivates to dig deeper and push to the full to achieve world-class results
- * Problem-solving: ability to effectively identify issues and come up with solutions, often in an unconventional manner to reach desired team goal
- * Analytical skills: be inquisitive and analytical through gathering and synthesizing qualitative and quantitative information. Programming skills is a plus
- * Communication: strong Communicator who can convince others to pursue a course of action. Able not only to speak, but also to listen and value opinions of others
- * Strong financial and analytical skills incl. proficiency in Microsoft Word, Excel, and PowerPoint are required
- * University Degree in a quantitative field with outstanding academic achievements
- * Perfect English language (other languages is a big plus)
